For new ideas in bright packages
listen to the Radio Roundtable of the University of Kentucky
Sundays, 9 (10:30) A.M.* Over WHAS
840 on your dial

Every Sunday through the year the University of Kentucky presents faculty members . . . visiting lecturers . . . Kentucky leaders . . . students and veterans . . . and the man in the street . . . in lively discussions interpreting the facts behind the headlines . . . the backgrounds of current social trends . . . the problems of local, state, and national policy.

TELL . . your friends about these programs
TELL . . us what you want to hear discussed

The Radio Roundtable is the University of Kentucky . . . serving you and your community.

*Time may vary. Check the program listing of WHAS for Sunday. Look for the University of Kentucky, or Four on a Topic . . . .

Here are some of the topics discussed recently:

Should Co-operatives be taxed?

That Old Constitution Again!

Pity the Poor Bureaucrats!

Do you think teachers should strike?

Let's give southern children a break!

Is there a way to permanent peace?

Can more industrial development solve Kentucky's problems?

Must we fight Russia?

Is the newspaper obsolete?

Are you paying all your property taxes?

What's your stake in Kentucky's natural resources?

Foreign policy is your business!

Is a United States of Europe possible?

Are teachers second-class citizens?
